A county seat paper says that of the fifty prisoners in the jail there are probably none who are not addicted to some bad habit. That is reasonable to suppose. If they were not addicted to some bad habit they would not have found their way into jail.

"Mum" is the word given out by the oil and gas prospectors operating west of the city. The drillings will be kept under lock and key and no information will be given out except to members of the company. But do not worry, we'll all find it out if they strike a gusher.

A Carthage citizen is pulling a bowl because the water from the eyes of another man's barn drops down on his hand. The owner of the barn has been consulting the law as to whether he is allowed to pull up the root, since it would necessarily extend an inch or two above the complainant's territory.

It is said that a prominent Webb City banker is implicated with the foot-race swindlers at that place. The fact that the swindlers have the support of some of the big wigs of Webb City, is undoubtedly the reason the races are not stopped by the officers. The idea that the law cannot get at them is absurd. If the officers wanted to stop it they would stop it, and don't you forget it.

Have the people of this vicinity anything to be thankful for? Indeed they have. Even from a temporal standpoint this has been a propitious year. Although the drought of the summer brought destruction to the corn crop, the other crops have done so well that they will offset in a measure the loss of the corn. So let us all, with one accord, this another Thanksgiving day, lift our voices in praise and thanksgiving, to the Author of all our blessings.

THANKSGIVING.

From the Christian Advocate.

The Psalmist sings, "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise; be thankful unto Him and bless His name; for the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting and His truth endureth forever."

These words are a forcible admonition to our people and our Nation as the national thanksgiving season approaches. There are many reasons for giving thanks to God for the blessings which he has bestowed upon our Nation the past year. We have been blessed with abundant harvests, our trade and commerce have been increased, labor has been strengthened, and religion and education have been advanced. We have suffered from no pestilence and have been saved from internal dissensions.

It is becoming to us as a nation to render thanks to God for having been, in the midst of our national sins, merciful and sparing, for its wider fields of injustice. God is leading our Nation through perils and trials, and it is hoped that those who have been entrusted with the "ship of State" will be true to God and keep in mind that righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

Christian people should be thankful to God for the triumphs of the Gospel. Christianity is leavening the Nation; righteous laws are being agitated vigorously, though against great opposition. Yet the people should be truly thankful because they are a part of a country where the Bible is an open book and where Gospel privilege are unrestricted.

Each individual should be thankful to God. As he reviews the past year he may recall scenes of severe struggles, real disappointments, hours of darkness, bitter necessities and sad failures; he may have seen other prospects and repented because he has not he may have been laid aside from daily labor and experienced material loss; he may have indulged too often pessimistic views of life and failed to look through the gloom of the opium, unmindful of the fact that the "whole world is the only perfect creation made" and is now organized by the wise and omnipotent造主.

Heaven and hell are real, and pain and pleasure are real, and God is wise and good, and is also wonderfully kind to those in need of help.

"Everyone" is the only perfect creation made, and is now organized by the wise and omnipotent造主.

Let Us Give Thanks.

The days are so full of pleasure,
The nights so bright with cheer,
Thou hast helped so high the measure
Of life in the passing year,
That, Master the Lord, we bless thee,
And bring thou thankful praise;

Our reverent lips address thee
At this parting of the ways.

Many a time and often,
Thou hast pardoned our foolish pride,
Hast turned our griefs to softer,

Hast our selfish prayers denied,
The kinsman and the stranger,
Alike have known thy grace,
And the sword of the unseen danger
Has fled before thy face.

Many a time thy vision,

Clear in the light of love,
Hath aided our slow dreamer,
And pointed our eyes above,

Thy hands hath poured the chalice,
And broken the unleavened bread,
Tim the hot has been as pale as
Any as we have fed,

From the gins and traps of vice
Thou hast turned our feet away,
Hast saved our hearts from the torse,
On the unbegun ten day,

Our lot in thy land as ever,
To faintest toil hast sent;

Though our dear ones hence have Passed,

For into thine own sweet heaven,

None of their soulsزالعنهم،
They have entered, sin fugitives,
To prison with liver poison,

And the dire new we prove them,
With all who have gone before,
The endless hymn we raise them,

And lives elsewhere.

And still thou art always with us,
Fostering the soul;

Thou art, the strength art with us,
Ever our guide and friend;

How can life be dreary,

In the sun, fully conscious rare,
Or the path be bright or dreary,
When thou art everywhere.

Grace Davis came to Cap. James Lauderbaugh in this neighborhood which has assisted the people. Miss Davis was going up to see her attending physician. She had lung fever. The doctor saw me round twelve o'clock and advised of discontinuing his medicine as it was making her worse. He prescribed a medicine containing Quinine and I gave it to her. She did not improve, but continued to deteriorate, and after seeing a few pots of medicine she called it well enough. It was necessary like raising the heat, and this diminished the popularity of Grace's Medicine Syrup, because it was a popular remedy; we can sell nothing else.

You can prevent this by eating hot and means starvation; Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digestes what you eat. You need suffice your body with a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and you will be well again.
